U.S. LEAVES GOLD BASIS BY STATUTE

President Directs That Resolution Make Change Formally

NEW YORK, May 26.—Stocks up into a buoyant advance today when the market learned that President Roosevelt had signed for repeal of the gold-standard act, gains of 10 to more than 20 were general, while a few shares made even larger advances.

House of gold mining companies rallied sharply. Homestake rising more than 50 cents to around $11.50 a share. Alaska Juneau and Dome Mines gained about 25 each. American Telephone and U.S. steel surged to new highs under the fresh inflationary stimulus stimulated by the President's request.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—President Roosevelt has decided that the United States should go off the gold standard by statute.

He today requested Chairman Steagall of the House Banking Committee to introduce a resolution to place the United States off the standard by law.

The Alabama Democrat conferred with the President at the White House. Later he called newspaper-

Private debts, such as mortgages, can be paid in any legal money regardless of whether the original contract stipulated gold.

War debts owed by foreign countries can be paid in any legal money, gold not being necessary.

It will be unlawful to stipulate in contracts for goods or services hereafter, as the medium of payment.

All coins and currency legally issued will become legal tender for payment of public or private debts.

men to his office and read a copy of the resolution which is off the gold standard by statute.

ACT REPEALED

Repeals the "Gold Standard Act," Steagall said, adding that under the resolution, no obligations of any form would have to be paid in gold or gold currency upon the enactment of the measure.

He said it would be possible for the foreign debtor to pay the United States their war debts in any legal money.

"This bill frees the United States from the obstacles and handicaps of the gold standard," he declared. "It is an administration bill and a part of President Roosevelt's emergency relief program."

In addition, Steagall said, the law would make it unnecessary for the United States to devalue the gold dollar under the inflation provisions of the Farm Relief Act.

STABILIZE MONEY

Steagall termed the measure one of the greatest steps toward stabilizing money in the United States.

All legal money under this act, he asserted, would meet all obligations payable in gold to the United States.

Chairman Fletcher of the Senate Banking Committee will introduce an identical resolution in the Senate.

Morgan Bared As Controlling Power Octopus

Suppressed Tension at Senate Probe Breaks as Spectators Burst Into Applause

—Pecora Hit

By NATHAN ROBERTSON,
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Suppressed tension over the Senate's Morgan investigation burst forth in dispute at today's hearing, in the wake of disclosure that the wealthy banking house controlled the United Corporation—utilities stock-holding organization—which in turn is affiliated with companies doing 22 per cent of the electric and gas output business of the United States. The investigation was resumed this afternoon until next Wednesday.

Senator Carter Gage of Virginia fumed over the tactics of Ferdinand Pecora, the vigorous New York attorney who as counsel for the inquiry has had J. P. Morgan and one of his partners, George Whitney, under stringent examination in the past three days at the custom house.

Further disclosure of Morgan activities from George Howard, a president of the United Corporation, was the last Virginia demand, as the Senate committee sought to establish the exact course of the inquiry. He raised questions of the investigation.

UNDERLINGS IN NAZI GROUP GET WARNING

Revolution Now Enters Third and More Peaceful Stage

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Copyright, 1932, by Associated Press

This is the second of the series outlining the change in German life, the national revolution which has followed the accession of Chancellor Hitler.

BERLIN, May 26.—Capt. Hermann Goerring, introducing himself as Premier to the Prussian Diet last Thursday, said, "the state government guarantees that disturbance by the irresponsible and interference with industry and business will in the future cease."

Similarly, the government during past days has repeatedly made it clear would stand no more unauthorized acts by underlings.

That Otto Wagner, the Nazi commissioner, warned:

"The appointment of commissioners, removal and replacement of undesirable, attempts to influence prices, direct interference with business life, are measures solely within the province of the government."

"Infractions of this rule will hereafter be punished."

In other words, the German revolution now enters upon the third stage of autocratic rule from above, after having gone through the first stage characterized by the seizure from below of all political power and the question of laws and justice, and the second phase, characterized by "decentralization," or the re-removal, both from above and below, of all centers of German life.

TO NAME CHANNEL.

"Gleichschaltung" has become one of the most used words of the German revolution. Taken from the electricity vocabulary, it means the direction of current into the same channel.

One in possession of political powers, the Nazis proceeded methodically to seize control everywhere.

Sargeblums, sport clubs, theatrical employment bureau, stamp collectors societies and weekend camps have been taken over.

More fundamental changes than the gigantic bodies such as trade unions, employers' associations, press federations, chambers of commerce and leagues of German industrialists.

NAZI IDEALS

Nazi ideals may be summed up as follows:

1.—Giving practical effect to the Nazi motto, "The common weal prevails over private gain."

2.—Supreme allegiance to the state.

3.—Racial purity.

4.—Submission to authority from above according to the leadership principle substituted for democracy.

5.—Elimination of the class struggle.

6.—The creation of a new community spirit.

SINO-JAPAN HOSTILITIES TO BE ENDED

Observers Say Terms Add 800,000 Square Miles to Manchou Empire

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
Associated Press Correspondent

SHANGHAI, May 26.—Despite a street conference and official denials due to fear of the consequences, there appeared no doubt today that a provisional Sino-Japanese truce was signed at Nanking last night.

The document was brief, providing for the cessation of hostilities, leaving details to be arranged through fixing of a line to which Chinese forces are to withdraw, leaving details to be arranged through fixing of a line to which Chinese forces are to withdraw.

Representatives of Chinese and Japanese commissioners were believed to have reached an understanding containing the following points:

1.—China and Japan will withdraw to the agreed line.

2.—Until a formal agreement is signed, China may not send troops into the area bounded by the Great Wall on the north, the Peiping-Mukden railway on the east and the Peiping-Suiyuan railway on the west.

3.—Chinese volunteer corps in the area mentioned will be dissolved and no longer encouraged or supported by Chinese authorities.

4.—China will undertake to exercise strict control against anti-Japanese movements in the area mentioned, and also in Peiping, Tientsin and elsewhere in North China.

5.—Japanese troops will withdraw to the Great Wall on the north, the Peiping-Mukden railway on the east and the Peiping-Suiyuan railway on the west.

Foreign observers said it was safe to say the truce would be informal. Chinese acceptance of a huge Manchou Empire, an area of 200,000 square miles, comprising Manchuria and Jehol, and also the provinces of Chahar and Suiyuan, to the west of Jehol, was a feat.

Bottomley Expires In England, 73

Neil D. Maclean, K.C., Goes Over Famous Letter, Sentence by Sentence, Giving His Interpretation of Helen Mattern's Sentiments When She Believed Way Was Cleared for Divorce and Marriage to Minister.

By J. S. COWPER

The McPherson case is over. Last afternoon counsel for both sides finished their arguments and Mr. Justice Ford reserved his decision, at the same time making a suggestion that the parties get together before a judgment is handed down.

"I am going to reserve judgment," he said. "I can make no promise as to when it will be delivered. I intend to try to get time to go through the whole of the evidence, including the exhibits."

The consequences of a judgment either for the plaintiff or for the defendant will be of such a nature that there will be very little difference between the consideration which a judge should give to cases which come before him this is one in which the greatest care should be taken, because in delivering judgment all consequences, however serious to anyone, must be disregarded.

"I desire, however, to say that at the present time there appears to me much room for doubt as to where the real truth of the whole matter lies. There are such difficulties as to the facts of the case involved, that the ends of justice may be better served by suggesting that counsel for the parties might consider whether there is not some way out of a judgment on the main issues either for the plaintiff or the defendant."

EVERY LITTLE HELPS

There are some fine business houses in Edmonton. Two thousand of these are occupied by families whose bread-winners are out of work.

What comes of the Employment Service Plan will depend upon what the occupant of the other thirteen thousand homes.

If each of these thirteen thousand families spend only $10 each in fixing up the premises in work-making improvements elsewhere, $130,000 would be put into circulation which may otherwise lie idle and useless.

It is not too small to help materially in a community fight against unemployment. If the average spending works out at twice that amount, aggregate aid in wages and purchases as a result of the effort will run to more than a million dollars. That sum would help a good many men buy directly and indirectly, and make a notable difference in maintaining business conditions.

SWEET WAS THE SONG THAT YOUTH

SANG ONCE

Sweet was the song that youth sang once,

And passing sweet was the response;

When Love is sweetest sweeter far

When Love leaps down our evening star.

Holds back the lightning wings of Time,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

And lo! the sunset gleams of Love,

MONTREAL, May 26.—All amateur hockey players who after Jan. 1 have changed from one branch of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to another in anticipation of the 1933-34 season are automatically suspended. Frank C. Greenleaf, president of the C.A.H.A., announced here Thursday.

Mr. Greenleaf pointed out that transfers of players from one team to another within the confines of the league is permissible if the transfer takes place before May 5. The new regulation is in effect to prevent the kind of transfer the referee made in January 1 instead of May 15. Transfers within the league maintain the May 15 deadline rule.

BUYING WAVE SENDS WHEAT PRICES HIGHER

WINNIPEG, May 26.—Breaking over the pit in late trading, a wave of buying sent wheat futures prices sharply upward in a closing flurry in today's session of the Winnipeg Grain Market. Recovering from early-day declines, values ended more than 1 cent higher than the previous close.

Losses of as much as a cent were regained in the last 15 minutes and futures ended 1/4 cent up, May 26, 1933, July 26, 1933, and December 26, 1933.

The first real buying of the session entered the pit near the close. Pressure of officials, almost continuous for most of the early part of the day, and support from the market were sufficient to bring about the recovery.

Earlier speculation was wiped away in the last minutes and "shorts" hurried to close quickly. Moving up, however, values finished at the day's highest points.
